Rail Shipping Embargo Boosts Idle In Nation

Unemployment Rolls May Reach Two And Half Million In 10 Days

MANY BIG PLANTS BEING HARD HIT

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6.—The government's embargo on rail shipping slashed further into the nation's coal-starved industry today and threatened to swell the unemployment rolls to at least two and a half million within the next 10 days.

Across the nation steel mills, fabricating plants and smaller manufacturing firms were either closed or were planning to lock their doors by Saturday unless the freight embargo is lifted and the coal strike is ended.

Steel mills were preparing to wind up rolling and finishing mill operations. Some fabricators have halted production and others expect to curtail production over the week-end.

Will Hit Railroads Hard

Railroad officials said they could not estimate the number of rail employees who will be thrown out of work by the embargo, but said it will run near the 100,000 mark. Sixty thousand already have been reported idled by passenger travel restrictions and the coal strike.

Detroit's vast automobile industry was ready to furlough a half million workers. Industry officials

PA NEW OBSERVES

Victor Gardner, Fern street, shot a seven-point deer at Brookston.

Increasing piles of cordwood seen around homes in New Castle and vicinity indicates that some householders are taking steps to guard against any fuel shortages.

Another deer kill was reported today when it was learned that Floyd J. Connor, 829 Lathrop street, dropped a six-point buck near Emporium, Pa. The deer weighed 120 pounds.

By the looks of numerous cars that are entering the city loaded with deer, venison will be on the menu in numerous homes for some time to come. Members of the parties who got their kill were sharing the meat with ones who failed to get a hit.

One local store has received a supply of cellophane bags and is using them for the customers purchases in lieu of the paper ones which are quite difficult to secure.

Pa. News suggests that before the real winter weather descends upon the city, that downtown building owners take a check of their spotting. Pa. News noted one particularly bad spot in the downtown area that was spraying pedestrians as they passed on Thursday. The resultant water from the melting snow in real cold weather freezes on the sidewalks making it very dangerous for foot travelers.

The attention of local residents is again called by Postmaster William R. Hanna to the fact that a number of trains which customarily haul a lot of mail out of New Castle, are being taken off. If you are expecting to mail a package to someone out of town, and want it to get to them by Christmas, you better mail it today, the postmaster warns.

Robert McCullough of Mt. Jackson reports to Pa. News that he set a trap to catch what he thought might be a rat in the chicken coop. Next morning, on dragging the trap from concealment, he met up with the business end of a skunk. His call for help brought a school-

Natural Gas Is Turned Into Big Pipeline

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Natural gas poured through the government's Little Inch petroleum pipeline today in an effort to alleviate somewhat the gas shortage. It may be flowing also through the Big Inch pipeline in another day or two.

Both the government and the Tennessee Gas and Transmission Co., which was awarded a four-month contract Monday to operate the two 1500-mile lines, exhibited unusual speed as the analysis arising from the coal stoppage continued to grow.

Enters In Louisiana

An initial fifty million cubic feet of gas daily entered the Little Inch conduct Thursday afternoon at Natchitoches, La. A similar amount may soon be pouring also through its companion pipeline.

The time is dependent upon the amount of water which has settled in the Big Inch pipeline during the more than a year it has not been in use.

If a large amount is found, it will be drained and this will delay use of the Big Inch.

It was emphasized that although the two pipelines will help in alleviating the fuel situation, the gas they carry will only make a small dent in the coal shortage.

The gas will be distributed largely in Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and possibly Western Pennsylvania, reaching consumers in 5 to 14 days.

No State Funds For Increasing Teachers' Pay

Issue Rests With 1947 Assembly State Justice Department Tells Districts

HARRISBURG, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Teachers and school districts were advised today by the state justice department that no commonwealth funds were available now to boost instructors' salaries above legal minimums.

Deputy Attorney General William M. Rutter emphasized that money to increase teachers' salaries beyond present fixed minimums would have to be appropriated by the 1947 General Assembly.

Rutter's explanation was made after striking teachers in Coal township, near Shamokin, petitioned Attorney General James H. Duff and other state officials to release state funds for pay boosts. The teachers' deserted classrooms December 2.

Draft Holiday Again Extended

Will Be No Draft Calls During Month Of January Says War Department

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Thousands of draft-eligibles were free today to start the new year as civilians.

The war department extended through January the ban it placed on the draft in the middle of last October because of record-breaking voluntary enlistments at that time.

The new extension of the draft holiday was made, however, despite a decided slump in the recruiting program. Demobilization schedules prompted the action.

War department officials declined to "even hazard a guess" as to whether draft calls will be put through for February and March.

Resumption of the draft depends on the number of enlistments which are expected to pick up after the holiday season.

Mine Workers Post Huge Bond To Stay Action

U. M. W. Posts $3,500,000 Bond And Lewis Personally Put Up $10,000 Today

STAYS EXECUTION OF FINES FOR APPEAL

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The United Mine Workers today posted a three million, 500 thousand dollar bond and John L. Lewis personally put up a $10,000 bond to stay execution of their fines for contempt pending an appeal to higher courts.

The union deposited three and a half million dollars in United States government bonds with the clerk of the district court and that sum is now deposited to the clerk's account in the treasury department.

John L. Lewis deposited $10,000 in cash which was handled similarly.

Announcement Made

The posting of bond took place shortly after Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough denied an order staying the execution of judgment on the contempt conviction in both cases pending disposition of a UMW appeal.

Announcement of the UMW's and Lewis' action was made by Harry Hull, a clerk of the federal district court. No union representative was present.

Both the agreement on the amount of the bond and the stay of execution were signed yesterday afternoon in a secret session in the chambers of Judge Goldsborough, and the actual depositing of the securities and cash took place this morning.

Hull said that the secrecy regarding negotiations yesterday and this morning was maintained because "we couldn't tell you (newsmen) until the securities and money had actually been deposited."

By GEORGE DURNO (U. S. Staff Correspondent)
LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Dec. 6.—Experts of the Soviet delegation today are studying the United States latest atom proposal presented at last night's session of the United Nations Atomic Energy commission.

The delay for study was requested by Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko after U. S. Delegate Bernard M. Baruch presented a special plea for Soviet co-operation.

Baruch also asked that the commission incorporate the plan in its report to the Security Council before December 20.

Georgi Saksin, told a special night session of the headquarters committee that the permanent site must be on the East coast. He said Russia and "other member states" would refuse to attend conferences on the West coast.

He said the Soviet would vote for the Philadelphia site as a compromise. It was expected that a vote would be taken today.

Truman Meets With Cabinet On Coal Crisis

Long Session Of President's Official Family Is Held During Morning

COAL EMERGENCY ACTION CONSIDERED

By PHILLIPS J. PECK (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—President Truman devoted his entire cabinet meeting today to a thorough, searching discussion of the soft coal crisis.

Cabinet officers agreed unanimously as they left the White House that the coal shutdown was the number one topic of consideration by the president with his official family. The cabinet session lasted more than an hour.

Secretary of Commerce Harriman said: "Yes, we talked about coal. You will hear about it from the president Sunday night."

Discuss Coal Emergency

Secretary of Navy Forrestal and Secretary of Agriculture Anderson echoed Harriman's words. They said the coal emergency was the matter under primary discussion.

Philip Murray, president of the CIO, called upon leaders of American labor to meet quickly and form "in unity" a program to combat what he branded a move to cripple the labor movement.

The CIO chief sounded his call in letters to William Green, president of the AFL, and heads of the two railroad labor organizations.

The government took drastic steps to safeguard the national economy from a prolonged fuel famine due to the continuing walkout of the coal miners.

Embargo In Effect

Two emergency coal-saving orders went into effect at 12:01 a. m. EST. One imposed a general embargo on all but the most vital freight. The other curtailed parcel post shipments, just 19 days before Christmas.

These steps were taken as American organized labor rallied to the cause of the United Mine Workers (Continued on Page Two)

SEEK TO AVOID PARLEY FAILURE

LONDON, Dec. 6.—(INS)—British ministers today sought a last-minute reconciliation of views of India's chief political leaders in the hope of salvaging the proposed plan for eventual Indian independence.

The British strove to avoid positive failure of the extraordinary talks in London on the eve of departure by Hindu and Sikh representatives who plan to return to India for Monday's scheduled opening of the constituent assembly.

Despite the utmost urgings, Jawaharlal Nehru, Hindu Congress party leader, and Mohammed Ali Jinnah, head of the Muslim League, maintained the same positions each had before journeying to London.

The talks never reached the roundtable stage although Nehru and Jinnah repeatedly were closeted with the British on separate occasions.

The main point of dispute is that Jinnah remains steadfast in a demand for establishment of Pakistan, or a separate Muslim state.

Judge W. W. Braham Addresses League

Meeting Of Women Voters League
Is Held In YWCA Thursday Afternoon

At a meeting in the lounge of the Y. W. C. A. Thursday afternoon, the League of Women Voters and the Legislative and Citizenship department of Women's club heard an address by Judge W. W. Braham on "Children of Lawrence County as I See Them." Mrs. L. F. Kohn presided and introduced Judge Braham.

After emphasizing the importance of the family as one of the oldest and a very real unit of government, he showed how when the family influence is weak or non-existent, as often in the case of broken homes, children may come before the court as neglected or delinquents and a solution must be found for each problem, no two of which are alike.

He cited the expert work done by Probation Officer Jack M. Dunlap in this county where at the present time there are no cases of juveniles in corrective institutions.

He spoke briefly about the survey that the league and other civic organizations have asked the county commissioners to have made by the Public Charities Association. Such a survey could, under certain circumstances, be a great help, he felt the group, providing that the expense would not be too large to justify it.

At the close of his talk, he answered questions from the audience which showed great interest in his talk.

Afterwards students from the New Castle high school chapter of the Young World Federalists showed a motion picture, "How to Conquer War."

A business meeting of the league concluded the afternoon's program. Next meeting will be in January.

can complain when I think something affects the fairness of the trial. Other defendants also are bothered."

Tojo asked: "How can we have a just trial if we are not permitted to talk freely with our attorneys?"

Gets Bored
Prior to last month, defense attorneys were allowed to talk with clients alone and unobserved. Tojo admitted that he now gets bored once in a while, but added:

"Never at the trial."

Blaming the new restrictions for his boredom, Tojo said he now writes but little, although during the early days of the trial he wrote steadily. Sometimes he would see visitors, saying he was too busy preparing his case.

He declared: "I am only really bored on lonely nights when alone in my cell at Sugamo prison."

Tojo added he could only see a single Japanese paper. And with the newspapers cut to two pages, this was not much news for a man who once followed the progress of his armies a third of the way around the globe.

Tojo recognized me from a previous interview months ago. He wore the same horn-rimmed glasses and the drab, tight-collared uniform he wore at the opening day of his trial last spring.

SOVIET STUDIES ATOM PROPOSAL

ference by the UN Political and Security committee. It met in an atmosphere of complete harmony.

The principal concession in the new American draft is an offer to let the atomic commission itself decide when the various "stages" of internationalization have been reached, including the time for surrender and destruction of the A-bomb.

This was qualified, however, by a demand for a veto-less international authority with duties laid down in a treaty that would have to be ratified by the U. S. Senate.

The worst obstacle to agreement—Soviet refusal to give up its veto over inspection machinery—has been removed.

According to estimates, the damage done annually by insects in the country amounts to about $1,600,000.

TRUMAN MEETS WITH CABINET ON COAL CRISIS

Union in its fight to escape crushing financial penalties for failure to halt the 16-day-old walkout.

The UMW itself posted bond today with the clerk of the federal district court to stay execution of a three-and-a-half million dollar fine levied against it for contempt pending an appeal that will reach the U. S. supreme court. Posting of a bond also was necessary to stay a $10,000 fine assessed against Lewis.

Appeal By Green

Numerous movements were under way to get the soft coal miners back into the pits. One was an appeal by AFL President William Green that the miners and operators negotiate a new contract. Reaction was awaited from Lewis and the operators.

Lewis received support in his fight from both Green's AFL, with which the UMW is affiliated, and the CIO.

President Truman will make a radio appeal Sunday night for settlement of the walkout. The president is expected to outline the damage which the coal stoppage is causing and the economic paralysis which lies ahead. It is believed Mr. Truman will appeal to the nation to help conserve dwindling soft coal stocks.

said that a coal shortage and the resultant freight embargo coupled with a shortage of steel will virtually close all plants within a week.

Throughout Illinois and Indiana at least a million workers in steel mills, farm implement plants and heavy manufacturing firms will feel the full effects of the coal strike and embargo within days.

Automobile parts manufacturing plants, especially those in Ohio and Michigan are preparing to issue long-range orders for at least 100,000 engines. A spokesman for the industry said a shortage of steel, a lack of fuel and the embargo order probably will close a majority of the plants soon.

Black Days Ahead

As the nation headed for industrial paralysis, black days, even though behind John L. Lewis, complained of black days ahead, with less and less food and their fuel running out were anxious to resume mining.

In western Pennsylvania, state police patrolled the highway in the coal fields, following a brief outbreak of violence in the Oakdale-Imperial district.

BIG FOUR COUNCIL IN ACCORD ON TREATIES

Molotov and Secretary of State Byrnes each made final concessions on hitherto sharply divergent points of view. The toughest deal to settle was that of reparations, where Italy came out the loser with an additional 35 million dollars earmarked against her for payment.

The council will start its windup work this afternoon by calling for a report of the naval committee on the Italian fleet, for the economic commission's report on the free port of Trieste, and for a draft or breaking out of the remnant points in the permanent statute of the free territory. The ministers last night agreed on all of the major 38 articles of that instrument.

WASHINGTON CALLING by MARQUIS CHILDS

Senator Fulbright Just Won't Stay Put

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Senator J. William Fulbright, Democrat, of Arkansas, is in an irrespressible young man with deep convictions. He got soundly spanked for his "suggestion" that President Truman resign in favor of a Republican successor. But he is coming back for more.

Fulbright made his original proposal the day after the Republican landslide. He suggested that the President name a Republican as secretary of state. Then, upon Mr. Truman's resignation, the Republican secretary of state would become president.

Strenuous objections were raised at once. The Republicans pointed out that this would give a Democrat the chance to name this Republican successor. The G. O. P. would never accept such a suggestion.

Mr. Truman would not even dignify the "suggestion" with a press conference reply. A large section of the press went after Fulbright's scalp. Some editorial writers said that, because he had been a Rhodes scholar, he was persuaded in favor of all things British, including the parliamentary custom.

Just Grins Goodnaturedly

Looking over a pile of clippings that reflect varying degrees of wrath, the senator from Arkansas grins goodnaturedly. He has a bill ready for introduction when the next congress meets which, if it is passed by a majority of both houses, would embody his "suggestion" in the law of the land.

The bill is similar to a law which was on the statute books from 1922 to 1936. The old law was approved by George Washington. It provided for the calling of an election of a president when the office of president and vice president both became vacant by resignation or otherwise.

The founding fathers thought that a president might want to resign for various reasons. That is why the way of resignation was left open in the Constitution. That is why that early congress passed the law which was repealed by the presidential succession act of 1836.

Under the Fulbright bill, the president pro-tem of the Senate or the speaker of the house would act as president until congress could provide machinery for an election. No special election would be held if less than five months intervened before a regular presidential election.

Not Sold on Co-operation Talk

Along with others on Capitol Hill, Fulbright does not take too seriously the talk of co-operation between the Republican congress and the Democratic president. They will both have the present intentions in the world, but human nature being what it is, the Republicans will hardly be able to resist the chance to destroy the Democratic party.

From 1936 to 1932, the Democrats did a war dance around the helpless Republicans. They chopped the G. O. P. down to almost nothing. This made for top-heavy Democratic majorities in 1934 and 1936. The extremists had their way.

That is, as Fulbright sees it, is always the consequence of a top-heavy majority. The radicals get control. In the Republican party, the radicals are those who would push reaction back at last to McKinley era. They are the unreasoned isolationists—nationalists who will take over certain key committees.

Some who criticized the suggestion that President Truman resign in favor of a Republican successor to feel that this would be an incitement of cowardice on the President's part. But there is a bit of neglected history which shows that another president, and a courageous one, intended to resign to bring unity to the country.

Wilson Would Have Quit

The day before the election in November 1916, Woodrow Wilson wrote to his secretary of state saying that, if Charles Evans Hughes was elected, he intended to resign the presidency at once to make way for Hughes.

That was before adoption of the lame-duck amendment, when the defeated president sat in the White House from November to March.

"All my life long," Wilson wrote, "I have advocated some such responsible government for the United States as other constitutional systems afford and as such action on my part would inaugurate, at least by example, responsible government means government by those whom the people trust and trust at the time of decision and action. The whole country has long perceived without knowing how to remedy, the extreme disadvantage of having to live for four months after an election under a party whose guidance had been rejected at the polls. Here is the remedy, at any rate so far as the executive is concerned."

The situation today is different. But the Democratic administration was repudiated on Nov. 5 as surely as though a presidential election had been held. That is the paramount fact we face.

Hints On Etiquette

If the clergyman and his wife are invited to the bridal breakfast, the bride's mother sits at the head of the table with the bridegroom's father at her left. Her husband sits at the other end of the table with the bridegroom's mother at his right and the clergyman's wife at his left.

Were you one of those drivers who were caught short during the first snow storm of the season? Many were caught without tire chains, anti-freeze and other ordinary precautions for safe winter-time driving. Accidents can be prevented, even in adverse weather, by foresight and common sense.

Unwanted Santa Claus

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed by International News Service.)
I hear that Santa Claus won't budge an inch from the north pole unless somebody guarantees him safe conduct through America's battle lines.

Mr. Claus says "Aren't these the same people who were screaming for peace not so long ago?"

Things have reached a point where, I hear, Democrats who were licked for Congress are accepting the congratulations of their friends.

Out at the UN, delegates pitter on about the atom bomb while we sit on one.

We can get more trouble out of one set of eyebrows than the atom smashers can work out with a ton of machinery.

We've never been able to figure out how the Soviet got a veto power over the world and we can't even get one over Lewis.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

California, Texas, Nebraska, Iowa, advantages of those states, we miss something.

We didn't know what it was—until we got back to our own piece of ground in Connecticut.

It was HOME.

There were the trees and the shrubs and the vines—bare now, but just pausing for another glorious Spring. There were the two white ducks in the brook, quacking their silly welcome.

There were all the familiar things inside. There was my mother's picture on the wall and my wife's mother's father's.

There were memories of friendship and of love and of living. The house was cold, but there was warmth inside.

And so we came to the conclusion that every state is a good state as long as it is home, and that the really worthwhile warmth is the warmth that is inside you and that you create yourself.

Words Of Wisdom

Free will is not the liberty to do whatever one likes, but the power of doing whatever one sees ought to be done even in the very face of otherwise overwhelming impulse. There lies freedom indeed.

From Me To You

One of our energetic Service Clubs has again hit the jackpot—that is they have hit the jackpot to the extent that one one else is to receive direct benefit. The New Castle Lions Club has just announced that they will present, as soon as possible, 48 woolen blankets to the Margaret Henry Home. . . . This is a very wonderful gift and greatly needed at the home.

In addition to the 48 blankets . . . the Lions Club has ordered two eye examination machines for the public school system . . . which will provide additional coverage to insure that our children are better equipped to start life . . . all the advantages for receiving the most of their schooling by making sure that each child sees his subjects as plainly as his fellow classmates.

Heretofore the Lions Club has spent all their funds for the Blind . . . since they are up on all cases in the city . . . they felt that not was not the time to sit back and take life easy . . . Other fields beckoned and they rose as one single man to the challenge. Orchids to the Lions.

But if the rail embargo goes on . . . That's a story that we don't like to predict.

Let's talk about something else . . . say have you written your Congressman or United States Senator about the SUGAR situation? If you haven't why not stop right now and get out your writing stick and give him a few thoughts on the topic. You have been reading the editorials and articles in this paper about our SUGAR situation here . . . why can't we have a little extra sugar for Christmas . . . why can't they do away with sugar rationing all together? You are part of this nation . . . voice your ideas . . . write today . . . or wire today. But send word at once.

Secretary Byrnes Badly Handicapped

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The cleverness becomes the character of the job which Secretary of State James P. Byrnes and the other American representatives at the United Nations are doing, the deeper ought to be public indignation over the way in which their difficulties are being increased by men and events within their own country.

FEW public officials in American history have ever had a harder task than that laid upon Mr. Byrnes. It is impossible to exaggerate its importance. That Mr. Byrnes fully grasps these facts is one question. That he is putting everything he has, mentally, morally and physically, into the effort to achieve an international co-operation that will insure permanent peace, only the twisted and uninformed will dispute. Nor is it easy to see how anyone could have made greater progress than Mr. Byrnes. The criticism of him seems trivial and his critics not widely free from prejudice.

UNDER the circumstances it does seem that the one thing to which Mr. Byrnes is entitled and upon which success depends is the whole-hearted support of a united country. To a very large extent, of course he has exactly that. Our foreign policy is a nonpartisan policy. The Republicans, in the main, have loyally co-operated. In the main, too, so have the press. Yet, the American position has been enfeebled and Mr. Byrnes and his colleagues handicapped by two things that never should have happened. One, of course, is the coal stoppage. The long series of more or less crippling strikes which we have been afflicted since the close of the war certainly have been no help to Mr. Byrnes. It is not easy for the United States to assert world leadership and command respect for its strength when it is so remarkably clear that it is unable to manage its own internal affairs with reasonable intelligence. There have been many evidences of this in the past eight months and it is beyond dispute that they have weakened us in the foreign field.

THE climax was the coal strike. This has produced the nearest thing to a general strike this country has ever had. It endangers the very existence of industry and is a concrete threat of chaos, which plays directly into the hands of those whose aim it is to overthrow our form of government. It not only tears to pieces our domestic economy but it makes it impossible for us to carry out our commitments abroad. A more effective way of cutting the ground from under our representatives in the United Nations could hardly be devised. But while that is Mr. Byrnes' most serious handicap, it is not his only one. There are Mr. Henry Wallace and Mr. Elliott Roosevelt. True, neither of these has much standing in the country. What they say is not important, except that it can be used by those who oppose us to argue that this nation is badly divided on foreign policy. This is not true, but it hurts our cause. The facts can be so distorted as to make it seem true to anyone.

DISMISSED from the Truman Cabinet, Mr. Wallace is now engaged in making a series of speeches assailing the American foreign policy, endorsing Russia and attacking the United Nations. The line he takes is very much like the line of the Daily Worker, and his utterances naturally arouse enthusiasm among the radical groups in New York. Even more extraordinary are the remarks of Elliott Roosevelt in Moscow. In conversations here Elliott was reported as unfavorably contrasting the United States and Great Britain with the Soviet Union and asserting that his own country is supporting the United Nations for purely selfish and unimperialistic reasons.

IT is true that since his refusal to accept his appointed mission, Mr. Wallace has been making statements concerning the American position on the atomic bomb, as pointed out by Mr. Baruch. Mr. Wallace's reputation as a sincere thoughtful man has been greatly diminished. Nevertheless his prominence as a former Vice President and Cabinet member is sufficient to give wide circulation to what he says. Of Elliott Roosevelt, though he is less important, it is more difficult to speak with restraint. That this ambitious person with his unsavory financial record and unpleasant personal qualities should so openly misrepresent his own country in the Russian capital is well calculated to discredit the average American. The character of his speech and his silly claims that he was "framed" by the United States Embassy serve to deepen this distrust.

LITTLE can be done about either of these assaults on the American policy. This is a free country and freedom of speech is basic. What can be done, however, is to keep our minds clear of what is said and that the American people as a whole are finding their Security of State, that Messrs. Wallace and Roosevelt speak only for themselves, that neither has the respect or regard of any considerable number of American citizens. That is the only answer.

VACILLATING TRUMAN

Shortly after the end of the shooting war, President Truman made this statement in a radio address to the country:

"Many People have asked the government to step in and decide who is to increase wages and exactly how much. I have, indeed, been criticized because I have not stepped in to lay down the law to business and labor. My refusal has been deliberate . . ."

I am convinced that we must get away as quickly as possible from government controls and that we must be back to the free operation of our competitive system. Where wages are concerned, this means that we must get back to free and fair collective bargaining.

This declaration was made more than a year ago. I save the people here that the days of government controls and intervention were to be ended. The event has proved that Mr. Truman either was insincere in this utterance, or that shortly afterward he was persuaded to change his mind.

The truth is that we have seen, since the end of the fighting, more and more exercise of government controls. This control has been arbitrarily used over both wages and prices. Not only has the administration intervened in every major strike, from the motor strike to the maritime strike, but it has utilized the excuse of war emergency in time of peace to take over struck industries, even today the government is holding the coal mines. In the maritime strike it not only failed to support the principles of collective bargaining, but actually repudiated the agreements reached by negotiation between employees and employers. Instead of getting rid of controls over wages it has sought to extend its control.

So far as the restoration of our free competitive system is concerned, the record violently contradicts the President's promise to the people. He not only demanded indefinite prolongation of the OPA, but vetoed a bill limiting this agency's powers and reluctantly signed a second measure of the same general import. The result has been such a muddling of our economic situation as never before experienced. The whole national economy is in a state of utter confusion.

It is almost inconceivable that the same man who made this declaration more than a year ago should have followed the various policies in explicit contradiction to such a statement.

Our disrespect for Elliott Roosevelt increases with the years. He now has dropped the radio business in favor of making a career of saying what people would have done had he been here.

THE ETERNAL QUESTION

At times, when I had been away, Long years ago I used to say, As any doting father would: "Come tell me, son, have you been good?"

Eternal question! Parents all Have asked and will of children small: "Have you done everything you should?" Come tell us now, have you been good?"

"Have you been good?" Today it slips As though it dwelt upon my lips. I question my grandchildren three: "Have you been good as you should be?"

When done with life and every task, The Father of us all may ask— Where good and ill are understood— No more than this "Have you been good?"

TUBERCULOSIS AND SCHOOL

Our government compels all of our children to go to school. It also assumes the responsibility of keeping the school a safe place to go.

Children who have communicable or catching diseases are excluded from school until they are well again.

Tuberculosis is a communicable disease. It is pretty hard to handle. The first symptoms are usually very vague. Sometimes the disease is far advanced before the patient is aware of a trouble.

Teachers or pupils may have the disease and not even suspect it.

Pennsylvania is trying to stamp out tuberculosis. All teachers and pupils are given free medical examinations in an effort to find early cases. By finding those who are infected and treating them before they give the disease to others it is hoped to bring it under control.

Announce B. & O. Passenger Slash

Railroad To Discontinue 23 More
Trains: Two Pass Through
New Castle

Complying with the ODT order to cut passenger service 50 per cent by 11:59 p.m. Sunday, December 8, the Baltimore and Ohio railroad has ordered the cancellation of 23 more trains.

The new reduction order brings the total discontinuances to 34, but only two of the trains serve this city. They are No. 35, Washington to Chicago, and 32, Chicago to Philadelphia.

Road officials declared that most of the trains affected are short runs, and the few long runs discontinued are between points also served by Diesel-operated trains which are not affected by the ODT order.

PORTAGE — Dewey Hess almost bagged a 250-pound bear while seated in his car. The unsuspecting animal was ambling across a highway when it was struck by Hess' automobile but after a moment's hesitation the bear regained its composure and walked away without a backward glance.

Miss Anna Leslie Dies In The West

William S. Leslie, of New Castle, R. D. 6, and Miss James B. Kennedy, of 1917 East Washington street, have received a message, telling of the death of their sister and aunt respectively, Miss Anna Leslie, aged 87 years. Miss Leslie, a former resident of Lawrence county, died suddenly as the result of an heart attack Thursday night at her home in North English, Ia.

She was the daughter of the late John and Christina Mayne Leslie, being born in July of 1859, in Lawrence county, where the deceased taught school. Before moving to North English, in 1905, she resided at Slippery Rock. Miss English was active in church work in Iowa.

Survivors include one member of the immediate family, her brother, W. S. Leslie, New Castle, R. D. 6, and a number of nieces, nephews and cousins in this district.

A sister with whom the deceased had made her home, Miss Martha Leslie, preceded her in death January 1, 1938.

AUTHORIZE STRIKE

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Lawrence Kelly, vice-president of the CIO American Communications Association, said today that Western Union Telegraph Co. employees had voted authorization for a strike in the New York area.

Kelly said that Local 11's 300 employees had voted in a referendum following a deadlock in contract renewal negotiations. The contract expires December 31, but no date was set for the walkout.

Department Store Sales Holding Up

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6.—(INS)—There was a rapidly growing list of unemployed in the Pittsburgh district in the wake of the strike of bituminous coal miners, but it hasn't affected retail store sales. The federal reserve bank at Cleveland reported today that department sales during the five trading days last week were one per cent higher than during the same period last year. Bank debits and new motor car registrations declined, however.

BURGLARS ENTER
Burglars broke into the Davis Coal & Supply company, Moravia street. They broke a window to enter the place. However, nothing was reported missing, according to the police, although desks were ransacked.

John left Hungary in 1905. Mary followed seven years later.

They tried advertisements and letters in order to locate each other. Finally, a letter to Europe this year spelled success. Kopelic found his sister's address.

They hugged each other and cried with joy. It was truly a happy Thanksgiving for Mary and John.

State Farmers' Purchase Power Shows Decline

Drop Of 4 Per Cent Noted During The Month Which Ended November 15

HARRISBURG, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The State Agriculture department reported a four cent drop in farmers' purchasing power during the month ended November 15. A two-point decline in prices received for farm products also was noted.

The department said the value of the farmers' dollar was pegged at $1.26 on November 15, one cent higher than a year ago. The index advanced from 207 to 212 per cent of the 1909-14 average from October to November.

Sharp declines in prices received for feed grains, turkeys, chickens and eggs accounted for the two-point drop, the department explained. The index of prices for principal agricultural products declined to 267.

During the month wheat advanced two cents to $1.99 a bushel but corn dropped 33 cents to $1.55 a bushel. Soybeans jumped 75 cents to $2.95 a bushel. Potatoes were down five cents to $1.40 and apples increased 25 cents to $2.50 a bushel.

The index of meat animals increased 12 points. Hogs advanced $3.70 to average $23.70 per hundred weight, veal calves $1.40 to $21 and lambs 80 cents to $19.

Other developments were: Wholesale milk advanced 10 cents to $3.10 per hundred weight; chickens fell off 62 cents to average 34 cents a pound live weight; eggs declined 28 cents to average 59.2 cents per dozen; turkeys dropped four cents to average 46.5 cents per pound live weight; and butter declined from 86 to 82 cents a pound.

Trucking Companies Given Authority To Expand Territories

Owing To Present Coal Emergency Trucking Firms Are Given Broader Territory

HARRISBURG, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The Public Utility commission announced that bus and trucking companies will be authorized to expand territories as long as rail transportation curtailments were in effect.

The Office of Defense Transportation has ordered coal burning railroads to cut passenger service another 25 per cent, effective Sunday and to limit freight shipments to necessary items.

The commission will expedite action upon requests from existing certificated motor carriers for special permission to transport passengers and freight to destinations in the commonwealth where a transportation emergency may exist," the PUC stated.

"This action is taken in the belief that the full utilization of all available common carriers, buses and trucks during the period of emergency is in the interest of the shippers, and passengers may be effected by this drastic curtailment of rail service rendered by coal burning locomotives."

HELD IN FATAL

SHOOTING OF WIFE

BELLE VERNON, Pa., Dec. 6.—(INS)—State police reported that Felix Berch, 48, of Belle Vernon, was being held in the fatal shooting of his wife, Josephine, 43, following an argument.

Police said Mrs. Berch died with seven bullet wounds in her back after what was understood to be a quarrel over "family trouble." Mrs. Berch was the mother of three sons, police said.

Sharks have an olfactory and a visual response to food.

Freight Embargo To Spur Decline Of Steel Output

CLEVELAND, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The magazine "steel" said Thursday that the freight embargo will hurry the decline in national steel production, which already has fallen 31 points since the coal strike began.

The production rate today stood at 60.5 per cent of capacity, compared with 91.5 per cent at the state of the strike. The decline this week was five points.

"A very sharp drop can be expected next week if the strike continues," a spokesman for the publication told International News Service.

"The freight embargo can bring a quicker end to all steel production than the coal strike itself."

He pointed out the difficulty of moving steel with trucks and the limited storage capacities in steel plants.

While unable to estimate the total layoffs in the industry, the spokesman said that many steel plants were keeping employees on the payroll despite production curtailments.

"The men are doing needed repair work and other jobs that can be handled during slack periods,"

Production this week fell off seven points to 50 per cent at Pittsburgh. It went down five points to 35 per cent at Youngstown, and two points to 45 per cent at Birmingham.

Byrnes Calls For Release Of Nazi Prisoners

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(INS)—U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes on Thursday called upon several European governments now holding German war prisoners, captured by U. S. forces, to release them as soon as possible and in any case not later than Oct. 1, 1947.

The European countries include France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Belgium and Luxembourg have notified Byrnes they will complete repatriation of these prisoners by next July. The Netherlands has expressed agreement.

Byrnes indicated, however, that he has received no definite assurances from France, although he feels that France is in accord with the purpose of the plan.

He stressed that since the prisoners in question were captured by American forces and turned over to the above mentioned governments, the U. S. has a certain responsibility for their release.

He disclosed that the war department has repatriated all prisoners of war from the United States with the exception of 153 Germans and 22 Italians, all of whom either are in hospitals or disciplinary institutions.

Byrnes revealed that there were a total of 435,788 Axis prisoners in the United States, composed of 378,898 Germans, 51,455 Italians and 5,435 Japs.

Bank To Provide Group Insurance For Employees

It was announced today by A. Green, president of the Peoples bank of New Castle, that arrangements have been completed to provide group life insurance for its officers and employees. The plan is made possible through participation by the Peoples in the plan sponsored by the Peoples First National Bank & Trust company of Pittsburgh in connection with a large number of correspondent banks. Heretofore it has been impossible for an organization of less than 50 to participate in the benefits of group insurance. Under this joint plan the employees of the Peoples will enjoy the same coverage as do employees of larger concerns.

OUTWIT BIRDS TO CURB CANNIBALISM PRACTICES

Eight suggestions, some of them just ordinarily good management practices based upon an understanding of chicken behavior, are offered for control of feather picking and cannibalism among chickens.

First is to feed an adequate ration, using less corn and more oats and barley in scratch feeds. Provide ample hopper space, with hoppers and feeders at heights which will prevent hens from picking the bodies of other birds.

Or give, offering fowls some other activity to keep them occupied. Feed them limited amounts of scratch feed frequently. Smear condensed milk on boards suspended from ceiling and sidewalls. Feed alfalfa, clover, or soybean hay. Feed manure or cabbage. Keep whole oats before the birds in troughs on the floor.

Another method is to darken nests. Have the nests and nest perches so arranged that hens cannot stand close to the nest and pick at birds on the nests. Supply plenty of nests and discourage pullets from laying eggs on the floor.

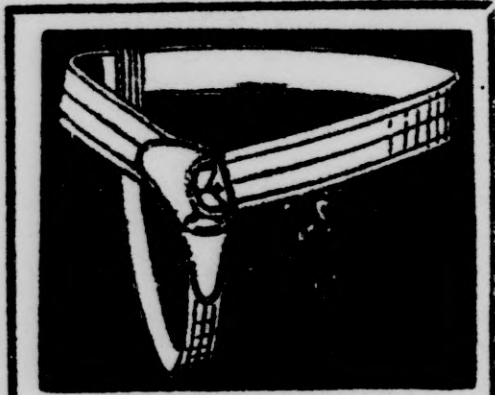

Watch the birds carefully. Find and remove birds which appear to be cannibals. The tips of upper beaks can be removed, and as a last resort, anti-pick devices can be used.

Argentina Move Causes Concern

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(INS)—United States officials today were said to be concerned over reports reaching this capital that Argentina practically has closed its borders with Bolivia.

Full details were not available, but scattered reports indicated that Bolivians, fully armed with proper passports and with visas issued by the Argentine embassy at La Paz, have been stopped at the frontier.

Some officials were of the opinion that the stoppage was due to a mere expression of displeasure by the government of President Juan Peron with the present Bolivian regime.

NEW CASTLE, PA.

German 'Brains' Put To Work On Our Air Program

Leading Aerodynamic Scientists Working On Research At Wright Field, Ohio

By ROBERT VINCENT
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WRIGHT FIELD, Dayton, O., Dec. 6.—A jet-propelled helicopter that looks like a flying pinwheel . . . A parachute full of holes, yet safer than any conventional design . . . A simple photograph of zebra-like stripes that measures airflow at supersonic speeds better than any known method . . . Gas turbine aircraft engines developing 10 to 12 thousand horsepower . . . Ceramic liners for the burners of jet engines that double or triple the life of the engines . . .

Being Perfected

These are just a few of the aircraft refinements being perfected for the army air forces by a group of 86 German scientists who are at work in the AAF's sprawling Wright Field laboratories.

The helicopter is being perfected by 30-year-old Fritz Dobihoff, who prefers an American "mister" to his Viennese title of "Baron".

It is only about one-third the size of conventional helicopters of the same carrying capacity, and since it has no shaft to revolve the blades there is no torque problem. Hence this whirling, flying blowtorch does not need the same anti-torque propeller characteristic of American machines.

In Ends of Blades

The actual jet engines which drive the 30-foot rotor blades are in the very ends of the blades, and develop greater heats than the larger jet motors used on jet fighter planes.

The developers of the ribbon parachute also have been brought to Wright Field to finish their work. They are Dr. Heini Heinrich, a parachute expert at the Graf Zeppelin institute, and his assistant, Dr. Theodor Knacke.

The solid, conventional parachute shows marked instability in tests in the tunnel, and this instability is believed to be a major cause of parachute injuries. The ribbon chute, made of a network of small ribbons sewn together is much more stable and reduces opening shock by 40 per cent.

Wind Tunnel Expert

Dr. Theodor W. Zobel is a wind tunnel expert who has perfected the "interference-schlieren" method of measuring shock waves and pressures on a plane model. Zobel has built at Wright Field a small, 24-inch wind tunnel which attains a velocity of about 1,900 miles an hour. He combines this with a roomful of mirrors arranged in rectangular fashion, and a light with an output twice that of the sun, to actually take pictures of pressure and heat.

The gas turbine jets are the work of Dr. Heinz Schmitt who developed the Junkers-004 engine used in German jet fighters. He claims that reciprocating engines are all right up to two or three thousand horsepower, but predicts that aircraft engines of the future will be gas turbines, with all transoceanic planes using such engines within five to ten years.

Among Leaders

These men are among the leaders of the Germans working at Wright Field. They work in closest collaboration with Americans, but only those American processes that are absolutely necessary to their work are made available to them. There is no chance, the AAF says, for them to secure any of America's top-flight secrets.

Hypoproteinemia means depletion of blood and tissue protein.

Morrison said the British government was anxious to reduce its military commitments throughout the world and added that in view of the stability already achieved in Japan, Britain has considered reducing its ground forces there although Navy and air strength will not be affected.

STOCK MARKET FIRMS AT NOON

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The stock market firmed around noon today in apathetic trading. Pivotal shares eked out fractional gains near the end of the second hour after holding in an extremely narrow range earlier.

Only 100,000 shares changed hands in the first hour and the pace remained as dull in the next period. Steel moving ahead by almost a point after opening lower. Bethlehem rose a fraction. Chrysler advanced around a point, but General Motors remained below last night's close. Santa Fe was boosted more than two points while rails generally were about even. Dupont met mild demand in a mixed chemical division.

HARRISBURG, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The Republican state finance committee reported to the state elections bureau Thursday that it had collected $1,021,347 and spent $746,332 during the 1946 election.

The committee's financial report showed receipts were composed of $201,422 balance as of November 27, 1945, and contributions totaling $818,925 between November 1 and 26, 1945. Contributions amounted to $1,830 between November 27, 1945, and the end of the year.

Largest contributions included $25,000 from the Republican finance committee of Allegheny county and $10,000 from the GOP finance committee of Crawford county.

Three thousand dollar contributors were: Mrs. Mabel Pew Myrin and Miss Ethel Pew, both of Bryn Mawr; J. Howard Pew and J. N. Pew Jr. both of Ardmore; Joseph R. Grundy, Bristol; E. M. Fire Beer Plant, Attempt Run-Down Of Casual Witness

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Police Chief James Moran of nearby Scott township reported that two men set fire to a beer distributor's plant Thursday and then attempted to run down a man who saw them start the blaze.

Moran declared that "there is no doubt" that the case was part of the union beer war in Pittsburgh. He added that the fire caused $500 damage to the distributing place operated by John A. Wene.

Moran said a railroad worker told him that he saw two men sprinkle gasoline on the side of the building and set fire to it. The witness said the men jumped into their automobile and, when they saw him, tried to run him down. Moran reported.

The police chief said he would reveal the witness' name for fear of reprisal.

The AFL Teamsters Union has been feuding with the CIO-United Brewery Workers Union for control of Pittsburgh brewery workers. Daniel J. Tobin, international president of the Teamsters, meanwhile, at a meeting in Indianapolis, ordered his members to push the beer war to a successful conclusion "no matter how long it takes."

Anthracite Mines Continue Working

SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 6.—(INS)—Near normal anthracite production was reported Thursday in the wake of legal battle between the federal government and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America (AFL).

The Glen Alden Coal company, world's largest anthracite producer, reported that all of its collieries were operating with normal forces.

At Nanticoke, approximately 400 men were idle at the Susquehanna Collieries company's number seven mine, which employs 1,600 workers. Local union officials directed the 400 men to report for work tomorrow.

The indications were that hard coal miners were not inclined to jeopardize their jobs or the industry when they could not be of help to Lewis.

Prize Steer Goes To Harvey Firestone At Bid Of $14,000

Rubber Company Executive Purchases Prize Oklahoma A. & M. Steer In Chicago

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Royal Jupiter, the grand champion steer of the International Livestock Exposition, was knocked down at $130 a pound Thursday.

The successful bidder was Harvey Firestone, executive director and general manager of the Firestone Rubber Co. of Akron, O.

The dark red Shorthorn, bred and shown by Oklahoma A. & M., and one of the few of its breed to win the blue ribbon of blue ribbons at this world's fair of the agricultural world, sold for a price far under the sums bid when the winner was shown by a 4-H club boy or girl.

Royal Jupiter weighed 1,370 pounds when it won its crown, but has lost some weight since.

Nevertheless, the animal will bring Oklahoma A. & M. a check in the neighborhood of $14,000.

The purchase by Firestone was a break for the champ. Instead of a trip to the slaughter house, Royal Jupiter will make a nationwide trip in an air-conditioned trailer.

The animal will be exhibited before more 4-H clubs, and farm and stockmen's groups, as were the four previous champions bid in by Firestone.

W.C.T.U. President Assails Drinking Scenes In Movies

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The W. C. T. U. fired a verbal broadside Thursday at the American stage and screen.

The anti-liquor organization, through its president, Mrs. D. Logan Colvin, described the movies and legitimate theater as major, nationwide schools of alcoholism.

She further charged that the liquor industry is subtly subsidizing both amusement mediums and chain stores who portray drinking and over-indulgence as the sophisticated things to do.

It's so bad, remarked Mrs. Colvin, that one critic recently wrote that only four of 29 new fall plays ran their length without a single drinking scene.

Furthermore, she went on, the plays and movies containing "boozing" scenes never weave counter-liquor propaganda into their plots—such as the "uneconomic and social effects like broken homes, insanity, highway toll, of lives, and losses of jobs and incomes."

Movies with drinking scenes encourage juvenile delinquency because, Mrs. Colvin asserted, the delinquencies follow "juvenile drinking" in almost every case.

Novel Gadget 'Sets 'Em Up' Rapidly In Bars

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Here's an item of interest to tipplers as well as the man behind the bar.

By installing a new gadget in the bar, the bartender is able to "set-em-up" faster than you can say the word.

And, simultaneously, he takes on the role of a slight-of-hand artist in disposing of the empty beer and liquor bottles which plague him during rush hours.

With the new gadget, all the bartender does is drop the empties down a flexible metal tube, and gravity takes them down the "slideway" of a big cabinet in the basement.

The flexible tube is a peace-time offshoot of the same sort of tubing that served during the war on landing craft, tanks and airplanes.

Hunting License Sales Are Large

County Treasurer Has Sold
Over 5,000 So Far This Season

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

Just how many hunting licenses have been issued in Lawrence county this year is hard to say for they are sold in many places. The largest distributor of hunting licenses is County Treasurer Frank W. Hill and his totals are the largest in the history of the office. Up to noon Thursday Mr. Hill's force had sold 4193 resident hunting licenses at $2 each, 960 non-resident hunting licenses at $15 each and had put out 98 free licenses to service men, a total of 5251 in all.

The demand for non-resident licenses was heavy this year. The treasurer's office sold out as did Beaver, Mercer and Butler counties. One Ohio resident came in late and after telephoning around found one in Clarion county.

If the total licenses issued in each county of the state corresponds to that of Lawrence county, there must be well over half a million hunters out with guns this deer season.

RETURN FROM MEETING

Register and Recorder Orville Potter, County Treasurer Frank W. Hill, County Commissioner Earl W. Wimer and Court Reporter F. M. Rowland have returned from Harrisburg where they attended a meeting of the Pennsylvania Conference of Public Employee Retirement Systems. City Councilmen D. O. Davies and James Gibson also attended the meeting.

At the meeting were representatives of the various retirement systems in the state, school teachers state employees, police and fire and some independent retirement systems in operation in some counties. It is planned to have presented at the next session of the general assembly legislation which will permit all retirement systems to be a part of a general retirement set-up. As the matter now stands counties of the sixth, seventh and eighth class can enter the general setup if 25 municipal sub-divisions join. Otherwise the county or city would have to establish its own retirement system.

County Treasurer Frank W. Hill was named treasurer of the conference and F. M. Rowland was named a member of the executive committee. There is pending now in Lawrence county the idea of establishing a retirement system for county employees. Thus far nothing has been done except to get statistics together and present them to the county commissioners.

LAYS OFF 14,000

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The Budd company today furloughed more than 14,000 employees at its two Philadelphia plants and one in Detroit because of the freight embargo which went into effect at midnight.

A Budd spokesman said the temporary layoffs were not due to a fuel shortage, but to restrictions imposed on freight because of the soft coal shutdown.

ROME, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Capt. Orin P. Gruelle, former Dry Ridge, Ky., schoolteacher, was found guilty by a United States army court martial of illegal currency transactions today and fined $10,000.

Gruelle, former superintendent of schools in Kentucky's Grant and Kenton counties, was severely reprimanded by the court but retained in the service.

The prosecution charged that he brought dollars from the United States and converted them into Italian lire while working with the allied commission. Then, it was charged, he bought war bonds with the several thousands of dollars profits.

BODIES FOUND ON RAFT THOUGHT SHIP SURVIVORS

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Three bodies clad in swimming trunks found on a raft in the Pacific were presumed by Mexican authorities today to be those of men who survived a ship sinking only to die of hunger.

One was identified as an American, a Lt. Kenneth MacLec. The others were identified as a Colombian and a Costa Rican.

The bodies were discovered by crewmen of the San Diego fishing trawler Sun Beauty eight miles from Puerto Escondido, in the state of Oaxaca.

Ancient hogs were not like those of today. They were known as a giant entelodonts and were huge creatures, some being over five feet high at the shoulders.

Say Candidate Is Agreed Upon

Hannestad Said To Be Man
Selected For State Plum
By G.O.P. Leaders

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Republican leaders were reported to have agreed upon E. Edward Hannestad, of Glenolden, as their candidate for the $7,000-a-year directorship of the state legislative reference bureau. Since Republicans dominate both the senate and house of representatives, it was not expected that Hannestad would encounter any opposition. Hannestad has been acting director of the bureau since the death September 1 of Robert S. Frey, of York. Hannestad had been assistant director.

Some Republicans at the State Capitol have expressed fear that a prolonged vituperative coal strike might cause a curtailment of some functions connected with the inauguration of Attorney General James H. Duff as governor on January 21. Prior to the soft coal miners' walkout, leaders had expressed the belief that thousands of Pennsylvanians would journey to Harrisburg to attend the inaugural ceremonies and participate in a mammoth parade. However, reduced railroad service because of the strike would force many persons to remain at home.

Three years operation of the state cafeteria in the main Capitol building has given one wing of the $10,000,000 structure the atmosphere of being headquarters for an ill-ventilated cooking school. The dead odor of cooking spreads through part of the huge building, sometimes to the level of the third floor, from Monday to Friday. Thousands of persons, passing along the ornate corridors beneath the costly paintings of early commonwealth life, move through a variety of smells which do nothing to add to the impressions of visiting Pennsylvanians or out-of-state tourists. So far little has been done to correct the situation. Two fans, the largest about 18 inches in diameter, labor with little success to ventilate the odors.

The death of A. Alfred Wasserman, of Philadelphia, general counsel for the joint state government commission, has removed from the Capitol Hill scene another veteran state employee. The 47-year-old aide to the fact-finding agency had served three terms in the general assembly prior to his appointment to the J. S. G. C. three years ago. He died in a Philadelphia hospital on November 30.

There has been some speculation in Capitol Hill political circles over whether Joseph F. Guffey, Pittsburgh Democrat defeated by Gov. Edward Martin for the U. S. senate, would be named to a federal post by President Truman. In a post-election statement at Washington, Guffey said "a half century of Democratic activity in traditionally Republican Pennsylvania has taught me to take political defeats philosophically."

Rep. Delbert W. Dalrymple (R-Erie), has been reported on Capitol Hill as a candidate for the speakership of the state house of representatives. Letters advocating the Erie assemblyman for the $4000 a biennium post reportedly have been sent to some assemblymen. Dalrymple has served in the house since 1939. Members of the 170-member Republican house bloc were expected to name majority leader Franklin H. Lichtenwalter, of Center Valley, as their candidate for the post when they caucus at Harrisburg December 7. Nomination by the G. O. P. house bloc will be tantamount to election.

Pecaries, which are pig-like creatures which inhabit the southern U. S. and South America, are omnivorous, and if they are hurtful to crops, they render service by destroying reptiles. Their voice is somewhat like that of a hog, but more snarling.

HOPES TO STAY NORMAL

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The Budd Company announced today that its 14,000 employees in Philadelphia and Detroit will "continue normal operations as long as possible" under the freight embargo which went into effect at midnight.

A spokesman pointed out, however, that progressive layoffs may be necessary "possibly next week or the week after" if the embargo continues.

He added that the firm was not hampered by an actual shortage of fuel, and that any layoffs would be due to the freight restrictions caused by the coal strike.

Sees Wide Use Of Rocket Power In Nation's Industry

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Dan C. Kimball vice-president of Aerojet Engineering Corporation of Azusa, Cal., today predicted a wide range of peacetime applications of rocket power, including "jet assisted" units for trucks and trains as well as for aircraft.

Kimball told the American rocket society that trucks may be moved by rocket power on uphill pulls or when "stuck in the mud." Trains may be started by jet propulsion, he said.

He disclosed that the first commercial installations of jet assisted take-off units are now being made on cargo aircraft. A single unit reduces the take-off distance required by a loaded DC-3 airplane by about one-third, enabling air transport firms to operate profitably from short airfields.

Assert Strip Mines Could Be Operated

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Coal industry leaders in Pittsburgh today maintained that government operation of the nation's bituminous strip mines with army personnel would supply the nation with a sizeable emergency fuel supply.

The opinion resulted from persistent reports that the government planned to operate the above-ground diggings with army personnel.

In a nine-county western Pennsylvania area, it was estimated that 17 strip mines could produce more than 70,000 tons daily in a one-shift operation. This would be nearly one-fourth of the normal daily 300,000 tons produced by both deep and strip mines in the area.

Over the state daily output for 540 strip mines is 127,024 tons.

Union High Has 31 Honor Students

Thirty-one students of Union Township High school made the honor roll for having grades above 85 per cent during the six weeks just completed, according to an announcement from school principal J. Arthur Turek.

Of the total, seven were seniors, Norine Conley and Dolores May received high honors for grades above 90 per cent, and Martha Cilla, Marjorie Dick, Eleanor Jones, Marie Toman, and Pauline Vanucci received honors.

One junior, Noel Henning, received high honors, while honors went to Paul Allison, Robert Matthews, Dolores Mott, and Maxine Tackitt. In the sophomore class, Edward Nevinson won high honors, and honors were won by Angeline Ambrosia, Betty Boudart, Larry Hall, Joyce Henning, Barbara McFadden, Ray Seaman, and Robert Van Meter.

Freshman high honors went to Kay Anderson and Maxine Mateo, with honors going to Janice Barlier, Dolores Cox, Esther Mae Cox, Florence French, Alice Hoffer, Jean Morgan, Josephine Proudfoot, Robert Torchio and Betty Walsh.

LEAPS TO STREET HER CLOTHES AFIRE

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 6.—(INS)—A 28-year-old woman was in serious condition today after falling from her third floor apartment, her clothing ablaze, to the pavement.

Police said Mrs. Daisy Carey was

AUSTRALIAN WAR BRIDE SECURES AN ANNULMENT

REDWOOD CITY, Cal., Dec. 6.—(INS)—Australian war bride Marie Lasher, 18, today held an annulment from her American husband after she testified her spouse was a "husband in name only."

Mrs. Lasher said her husband, Lt. Wesley B. Lasher, a merchant marine officer, returned to San Francisco after their marriage and for six months discouraged her from coming to the United States.

She arrived in November, was met on the dock by Lasher, but testified he refused to "set up housekeeping."

The Lasher's were married at Newton, New South Wales, on May 12, 1946.

New Castle Opens Floor Season Tonight With Youngstown East

New Regime In Basketball To Start Tonight

New Castle Fans Anxious To See Douglass Quintet In Action First Time

RESERVES PLAY AT SEVEN O'CLOCK

New Castle High's new regime in basketball gets its initial airing tonight when the formidable veteran Youngstown East High quintet will engage the Bill Douglass coached New Castle "Red Hurricanes" in the lid-lifter here. The New Castle and Youngstown Reserves play the preliminary at 7 o'clock.

After two weeks of rehearsal the New Castle team is ready, Douglass announced. This is the first game of a pre-league card that will bring Avalon and Westinghouse here for battles. Douglass has carded four pre-season three games away from home. Section Three gets underway January 3 with Ambridge scheduled here.

Starting Lineup Set

Coach Douglass has just about made up his mind on a starting five for tonight as follows: Don Spears and Don Black at the forwards, Stan Grybowski at center, and Al Marcouli and Chuck Ray at the guards. First string subs will be Don Watters, Paul Cuba Jr., and Gene Gribble, it was indicated. "This is just an experimental stage, and a lot of the boys will no doubt see action tonight," Douglass stated.

Youngstown East has a veteran team back this year and they are tall rangy boys, they will give us a tough opening game, but we hope to beat them," Douglass confided. Assistant Coach Clark McClelland will have a strong reserve team ready for action.

Avalon Next Tuesday

Prices for the game will be 60 cents for reserved seats downstairs and 50 cents general admission in the balcony. Students of senior high, and the three junior highs will get in for 25 cents.

Avalon High has been secured by Faculty Manager Robert Mills for next Tuesday evening here. The only other home pre-league game brings Westinghouse High of Pittsburgh here December 13.

SOUTH HILL AA MEETS SUNDAY

Members of the South Hill AA will gather Sunday at the club rooms for an election of officers for the 1947 season and plan for baseball next year, it was announced by Joe Augustine, president. The meeting starts at 2 o'clock.

County Floor Games Tonight

Youngstown East at New Castle
Stoneboro at Ellwood City
Freedom at Shenango
North Lima, O. at Bessemer
Monaca at Wampum

New Wilmington at Mercer
East Brook at Platingrove
Fairfield Township at Mt. Jackson.

County Cagers Active Tonight

Eight Games On Docket As Hoopsters Square Off In Warm-Up Encounters

High school basketball in the county goes into high gear tonight with eight contests listed on the docket.

Every team with the exception of Princeton will see action in pre-league battles. Mt. Jackson opens with Fairfield Township of Ohio on their home court and Saturday night move to Poland, O. for a scrap.

Section 21 fives will be passing and dribbling on many courts. Wampum's champions, with Dave Kanagy ready to go, play their first home game against Monaca. Eddie Nahas unveils his Shenango Wildcats on the home hardwood against Freedom. North Lima, O. is the visitor at the Bessemer Center. Conch Hill Douglass against Youngstown East here, while the Tubers, winners over their alumni last Tuesday, take on a Stoneboro five that has knocked off New Wilmington.

AA Quintets Busy

Both Section III quintets of the county, New Castle and Ellwood City, will be busy tonight. The Red Hurricanes makes its debut on the home floor, Hickory moves into Union's gym. New Wilmington, dumped in its inaugural game, goes to Mercer and East Brook meets Plaingrove at the latter's court.

Other teams of the section will also be in tune-up frays. Ambridge, highly favored to cop the honors of the local circuit, meets Atontown. Washington is at Beaver Falls, Midland at Aliquippa and Farrell at Oil City.

Franklin High At Ellwood City

Outline Program For Improvement Of State Fishing

Pennsylvania Federation Of Sportsmen Ask For 20-Point Program In State

HARRISBURG, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's clubs has outlined a 20-point program, including legislation, designed to improve fishing in the commonwealth.

Chief recommendations were aimed at enlarging the state's stream stocking program and tightening preservation measures.

The federation urged minimum $1000 fines be imposed on industries guilty of destroying fish through pollution. Penalties should be commensurate with the damage done, it was added.

Would Boost License

To improve fishing facilities, the organization called for the establishment of a hatchery in southeastern Pennsylvania and urged the state fish commission put "into immediate operation the postwar program planned and adopted."

Fish license fees would be boosted from $1.50 to $2 with 25 cents of the amount reserved for the purchase and development of fishing waters," the federation asserted in a petition. The establishment of a committee to study construction and management of farm fish ponds was recommended.

The fish commission was called on to expand its bass restocking program to match the trout restocking plan and to make a "biological survey of all streams, lakes and ponds in the commonwealth," build a lake in Lawrence county, institute a pond fertilization program to "increase the quantity and quality of fish" and construct dams in northern tier counties to improve fish and wild fowl life.

Make Code Parallel

The general assembly was called on to empower the commission to control use of motor boats on prime fishing haunts and to "make the fish code parallel the game code to the greatest possible degree."

The federation urged Spring creek in Centre county, famed fisherman's paradise, be opened to anglers on Sunday and large mouth bass stocked in waters covering 10 or more acres. Fishing should be banned in trout streams between March 21 and the opening of the trout season, it added.

Also called for were penalties for persons fishing in trout-stocked streams the night before the trout season opens April 15; one fish warden in each county; authority for fish wardens to place fish in approved streams when waterways for which they were designated were flooded, publishing serious fish law violations, giving special fish warden powers equal to those of special game wardens, investigation of laws prohibiting taking of bait from Pennsylvania streams with a view toward a possible change, making motion pictures of stream pollution available to sportsmen's clubs.

Trautman Elected Minor League Head

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 6.—(INS)—Columbus prepared today to become the baseball capital of the minor leagues following the election of native son George M. Trautman to the National Association presidency. Trautman's first act at the Los Angeles minor league meeting was to announce that he would move the association headquarters to Columbus.

On military leave for four years, Charlie Speidel will be in command of Penn State wrestling again this season.

DR. JOCK SUTHERLAND, coach, and who apparently imbued the Steelers with the well known college "try" fever, already has turned his attention to the 1947 season. He has ordered Johnny Michelson to tour the Big Six conference sector and Joe Kuberich, line coach, to tour Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan, to get first-hand reports on leading players.

Orban Sanders, New York Yankee rookie, scampers 42 yards for a touchdown with eight seconds left in the 21-7 Yankee victory over Brooklyn last week, thereby practically clinching the All-America conference rushing title, and moving into undisputed possession of second place in scoring. He retained his lead in punt and kick-off returns. Bill Jolly has returned from Tacoma where he attended the funeral of his brother who was fatally injured. While in Tacoma, he met Pay Kosky who boxed Willie Michele, featherweight champion of Ecolium, in the Jolly bowl. Jolly reports Kosky is in charge of shipping for a maritime company. When Kosky boxed here he puffed a cigarette during one intermission between rounds, which to say the least, was an unusual sight. Reports are current that Carl Voyles of Auburn will relieve Clark Shaugnessy, the T-master, at Maryland because he could not keep his lip buttoned, which allegedly is said to have one of the reasons why Dr. Jock Sutherland's Steelers played so desperately against the Redskins whom he also coached by Shaugnessy on Fridays. The Steelers Reskins tied 14-14 and in the second game the Steelers won, 14 to 7. Johnny Gilliland, who was with the Eighth Air Force and now a student at Westminster visited New Castle Wednesday. While stationed in the Second Air Force at Rapid City he visited Deadwood, S. D., where several of America's most picturesque characters resided in the early days of the west.

Gus Dorazio, former heavyweight boxer, who falsely claimed exemption as a war worker, and later convicted of the charge will be sentenced in Philadelphia, January 6. Report that Max Schmeling hopes to get back to the fight picture, has some folk worried. Billy Stevens, boxing writer for the New York Enquirer says the care of that, since shrewd promoters control most of the international boxing set-up. Frankie Moran made a good start in his eastern inaugural. There's nothing more appealing to a matchmaker than a knock-out. He won his debut in a round. Here & There discussed with a member of the local public school board a report that some schools carry insurance on their gridders. He said that no insurance is carried on local players, but in case of injury they are taken care of. When it was pointed out that it was possible for one to sustain a permanent injury, he said that under the present legal set-up the school board cannot appropriate tax monies for this purpose. He explained that, at a future meeting he may inquire into the possibility of using money raised through football for this purpose.

When the Redskins and Giants clash Sunday in New York second and first place teams, respectively, in the eastern division of the Nation Pro League, the offensive power of both teams will center on two backs. They are Slimmy Sammy Baugh of the Redskins and Frank Reagan, former Penn star, of the Giants. If the Giants win they will go into a play-off with the Redskins, December 15. If the Redskins win a play-off will be necessary.

Titans Select All-Opponents

SIX Geneva Gridders Named On All-Opponents Team By Westminsterites

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 6.—Six Geneva college gridders were selected on the all-opponent team named by varsity players at Westminster college. The Covenanters handed Westminster its only defeat of the season, a 19-0 setback at Farrell.

Waynesburg and Bethany are the only other schools represented on the first team. Grove City and Slippery Rock each placed a man in the honorable mention group. Geneva Best Drilled. The team follows: Letteri, Geneva and Steush, Waynesburg, ends; Manuel, Bethany, and Castiglia, Waynesburg, tackles; Roper, Bethany, and Small, Geneva, guards; Ross, Geneva, center; Kurels, Perz and Bruno, all of Geneva, and Sutton, Waynesburg, backs.

Honorable mention was received by Smith, Grove City, back; McElhaney, Geneva, end; Humman, Geneva and Roussea, Slippery Rock, tackle.

In commenting on their choices, the Titans agreed Geneva had a fine, well drilled eleven. Kurels, Geneva, and Sutton, Waynesburg, were rated the hardest backs to stop.

Cerdan-Abrams Fight Tonight

French And European Middleweight Champion Takes On Abrams In Garden

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The flavor of international competition will be restored to professional boxing at Madison Square Garden tonight when Marcel Cerdan, French and European middleweight champion, takes on George Abrams, of Washington, D. C., in ten-round bout.

Cerdan is one of the few foreign boxers to invade these shores who is being accepted at face value. He is undefeated in 96 bouts, outside of losing a couple of fights on fouls. He can box as well as slug.

The Frenchman is a 7 to 5 favorite over the bald-head Abrams, who made a fair comeback recently by beating the rugged Steve Beilke after getting out of the navy. Abrams, however, is quite a hitter himself. If Cerdan wins tonight, he would like to fight here again.

His wife, who was motoring to Miami when Jacobs was stricken while shopping on Broadway, was contacted at Daytona Beach yesterday and is flying north today.
